Santa Rosa Junior College
Multicultural Educator Award

Santa Rosa Junior College will once again honor a college employee with the Multicultural Educator Award. In the past, this award was given out at the annual DUO Awards Ceremony; however, since the DUO awards ceremony has been so poorly attended in the past, it was decided to no longer give awards at DUO. Thus, the award will be given out sometime in the fall at a to-be-determined event. The honoree will be a member of our college community who has made significant contributions to multicultural education at SRJC.

Specifically, the selection committee is seeking nominations for a college employee who has taken a leadership role in encouraging, supporting, or directly educating students from diverse backgrounds and/or providing multicultural education and/or programs to the students of Santa Rosa Junior College. Questions regarding these criteria may be directed to Robert Ethington, rethington@santarosa.edu.

The nomination deadline is May 12th. (see submission information below).
